

EVOLUTION AND ITS IRON LAWS

Theosophical Society Speaker Says a New Race Is Now Developing.

"The Law of Evolution for the Race" was the subject of a lecture given last night by Miss Annie C. McQueen, a theosophical lecturer from New York, who is delivering a series in the First Congregational church, corner of Williams and Rio Grande streets.

"Every race develops under a definite law. It is the law of evolution, the law of the divine guardians of humanity, who know the plan which the great God of our solar system has for this planet, earth," she said. "Man's service in the scheme of evolution is to develop intellect and each race develops some one phase of the whole volume of evolving mentality."

The Teutonic Race. "If we take the subdivisions of the great Aryan race, to which we belong, and trace them backwards, we find that the Teutonic race is the fifth subrace, and that its keynote, or law of evolution, is the development of individualism. This is evident in the fact that the outcome of the spirit of the race, which has shown all Europe into war. Two thousand years ago this fifth subrace had its birth, a birth safeguarded by great leaders. One, the great law giver, impressed upon the character of self reliance, the other, the great law giver, or spiritual teacher, taught the beauty of self sacrifice. The two characteristics of the race were intended to counter balance each other. Today that race stands at the climax of its growth and decision still hangs in the balance as to which of its offshoots shall wield the scepter of world power. The outcome of the war will show that."

The Other Races. "Proceeding the Teutonic race was the Celtic, which gave us Greece and Rome with their wonderful civilizations. Here the law of evolution was beauty. "Prior to the Celtic race, came the Iranian, giving the wonderful countries of Chaldea and Persia with their star knowledge, their fire worship, great and beautiful systems. The law for this race was purity, therefore was fire kept pure in religious ceremonial as a symbol of the divine fire of life in man."

"Still earlier came a Semitic race, a race which gave the world one of the many civilizations of Egypt, and left the wonderful literature of Hermes Trismegistus, the 'Book of the Dead.' This second subdivision of the Aryan race evolved under the law of power, and standing at the head of the Aryan race, its root and source, came the people from whom the Hindus got their wonderful literature, a race whose keynote was duty."

New Race Developing. "Today we stand at the beginning of the sixth subdivision of the Aryan race and the times are full of change. A new race is developing, the law of evolution is wisdom, brotherhood, synthesis. It is the protected child of the divine race, it will grow also to the fullest of its stature. Its watch word is peace. A great law giver and a great spiritual teacher, who will also be a great leader, will guide the race. The old order has changed with the passing cycle, the order of the new, racial cycle, which began in 1918, is union. A great world teacher will come before long to set the seal of wisdom upon the new race, and the change and disorder will cease world peace and prosperity." "The subject for tonight will be, 'The Lover and the Higher Faculty.'"

Another shipment of raw materials from Mexico included five cars of lime, the lime which is used in the making of brick. The lime came from the vicinity of Torreon.

TUCSON PLEASED WITH EL PASO

Recent Trip Helped to Make Friends; Tucson Developing Fast, Says Barnes.

"The El Paso chamber of commerce is sending a delegation of its representative citizens to attend the Southern Arizona fair at Tucson last month. It is by such methods that El Paso is winning the friendship of our people, and extending the area of its commercial operations," observed W. E. Barnes, of the Southern Pacific company, who is spending the day in El Paso on business for his company.

"The Tucson people were very favorably impressed by the consideration shown them by the El Paso chamber. I am sure that the El Paso business men were agreeably surprised at what they saw. A beautiful modern city, with great opportunities, well paved and lighted streets, pleasantly located."

Beautiful Suburbs. "The Southern Arizona fair bids fair to become an annual event of great importance. The fair grounds are located in one of the most attractive of Tucson's subdivisions, Fairland Acres, provided with splendid drives from the city, a beautiful view can be had of the valley of the Santa Cruz and the surrounding mountains."

Tucson is growing. The city has entered upon a period of rapid growth. It is spreading out in all directions. In Fairland Acres the richness of the soil and the feasibility of pumping water for irrigation, are attracting attention. Alfred S. Donnan occupies an attractive home almost in the center of the tract and has put a large acreage under cultivation in alfalfa, barley, corn and a wide variety of garden vegetables; also a large variety of fruit, such as peaches, plums, grapes, peaches, figs, persimmons, nectarines, quinces, apples, olives, almonds and English walnuts.

Farming Company Active. "The Tucson Farming company is very active in securing settlers for valley lands. Hardly a day passes that the company is not showing prospective settlers lands about Tucson. This company has secured control of 10,000 acres of the rich valley land, and at great expense has developed an ample supply of water for irrigation, and in addition to this, Gen. L. H. Manning has secured a valuable tract of land south of the city, 16,000 acres, known as the Cannon ranch, which is being rapidly developed. All this agricultural development means growth of the city. The rapid growth of Tucson is best evidenced by the fact that University avenue, now a handsome boulevard, lined with fine residences, was but a few years ago still in the brush."

"One has to visit Tucson to appreciate its many attractions and form a true estimate of its commercial importance."

New Industry of Promise. "As a result of the discovery of C. R. Biederman, who has been conducting experiments in Carr canyon in the Huachuca mountains, the English walnut has been successfully grafted on the native Arizona black walnut tree, and English walnuts of a large size and superior flavor produced. A large number of trees have been planted in the vicinity of Tucson by Gen. Manning and Allen B. Barnes, and so promising does this profitable industry appear, that the Tucson Citizen recently published an 'English Walnut section,' giving in detail the story of Biederman's experiments, and a complete list of those who are successfully growing English walnuts in Arizona."

Mr. Barnes brought some of these walnuts to El Paso with him.

United we stand. Let's unite in buying home valley products.

B'Nai B'rith BRINGS THE JEWS

Rabbi Cohen Tells Local Lodge of Work Done at Galveston by Bureau.

B'Nai B'rith day was celebrated Tuesday night by El Paso lodge No. 509, 1, N. E. at Temple of Shalom, with special services at which prominent visiting rabbis and churchmen were present. The temple was well filled.

The opening prayer was by Rabbi I. J. Rothstein, of Alexandria, La. Rabbi Henry Cohen, of Galveston, and Leon Schwartz, of Mobile, Ala., were the principal speakers.

Dr. Cohen devoted the greater part of his talk to what can and is being accomplished in the way of philanthropic work by the order. In the work of the lodge, he said, the rabbi should be in the background, merely helping with his advice and counsel.

The speaker told of the splendid work done by the order in maintaining funds to relieve unfortunate Jews immediately following the storm of 1906 which wrecked Galveston, and said that he reached in after that awful catastrophe clad our hearts, for it told us that our more fortunate brethren had not forgotten us and we were not forgotten by mankind."

The Galveston Bureau. Dr. Cohen told of what great work that was being accomplished up to a short time before the outbreak of the European war in receiving Jewish immigrants at Galveston and distributing them throughout the west. "Mr. Schiff of New York, in 1901, gave $50,000 for the establishment of a bureau at Galveston, the purpose of which should be to receive and care for the Jewish immigrants upon their arrival and find locations for them in the west. We spent $10,000 a year in this work and during the time the bureau was in operation we handled 10,000 Jews, placing them where they properly belonged."

The directors of this bureau were very ably assisted by members of the local B'Nai B'rith. Our splendid Jews and Jewesses met the steamers as they came in and warmly welcomed them to those who had come to America in search of freedom from oppression."

Met by the Mayor. "I shall never forget when the first vessel arrived. Mayor Landes accompanied me to the wharf and personally greeted many of the immigrants. I met one young Jew who had received a university education in his country. In broken English he told the mayor that nowhere in Europe had a 'bureau' master ever extended the hand of welcome to a Jew, and he promised that he would do so. He told me that he had a new home in this land of freedom would shed their blood if need be in defense of the United States."

"During the years that the bureau was in operation we saw many immigrants almost kiss the ground as they landed, so happy were they to be free. I believe that here was freedom and escape from the tragedy of being a displaced Jew. Mr. Schiff said that he will soon reopen the bureau, and with the return of peace will come another influx from Europe."

Lodge and Temple United. Leon Schwartz, of Mobile, a layman, spoke at some length. He stated that the B'Nai B'rith temple are closely allied, and it is the duty of the lodge to stand with and for the synagogue. Both methods and reforms. The duty of the order is to fight for the preservation of the Jewish people and the uplift of humanity in general."

"There is one story that the order was established because of the fact that secret orders had closed their doors to Jews," he said. "There is another story that the organization came into being for the mutual protection of Jews. I am inclined to think there is an element of truth in both. Today our organization all secret orders have been opened to Jews and our people are found among the ranks of these organizations. We have drifted away from the mutual protection idea and have extended the scope of our order into philanthropic and social work. Our order is doing a greater altruistic work than any other order in America."

Urged to Keep the Faith. Morris Levy, of Pensacola, made a short talk in which he urged greater efforts to hold Jews to the faith, to preserve Jewish customs and ideals. The musical numbers included a vocal solo by Miss Della Rosenstein, a vocal solo by Harry Rosenstein, and a duet by Mr. and Miss Rosenstein. Piano solos were rendered by Miss Annie Holsdorf and Miss Rosa Goodman.

The visiting Jews departed Tuesday night for San Francisco.

PANIC LIKE 1907 CANNOT OCCUR AGAIN, SAYS HAMLIN. Muskogee, Okla., April 24.—Because of the operation of the Federal reserve system, it is impossible for another panic like that of 1907 to occur, said Charles S. Hamlin, governor of the Federal reserve bank of Dallas, in an address Tuesday before the Southern Commercial congress. The country is now smiling with prosperity, partly as a result of the reserve bank, he added.

In time of financial stringency, a farmer desiring of credit can get it, Mr. Hamlin said. "We have a real elastic real liquid currency. The Federal reserve bank is empowered at such times to put out enormous sums, sufficient to displace any idea of panic."

The Texas and the Oklahoma is getting to a point where he will not stop his cattle in Kansas City, he said. "The cattle buy the meat back, Dr. Charles Brand, chief of the United States division of markets and rural organization told the members of the congress."

ARIZONA AFTER "LIBERTY BELL"

Gov. Hunt, Senator Ashurst and Others Want It to Come by El Paso.

Phoenix, Ariz., April 24.—Arizona is working energetically to bring the Liberty Bell over the Southern Pacific route when it is taken to the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco. This would take it through El Paso.

When E. E. Vallandigham, of Deming, took up the matter with the Philadelphia authorities and asked the cooperation of others along the Southern Pacific railroad, W. E. Barnes, of Tucson, immediately interested himself in the matter and began urging the Arizona officials to take steps to have the bell sent this way.

Governor George W. P. Hunt wrote Mr. Barnes as follows: "I desire to assure you that I am very much interested in the plan for having the Liberty Bell brought through Arizona en route to the San Francisco exposition. I am accordingly addressing a wire to the Philadelphia council relative to the routing of the bell."

Gov. Hunt's Appeal. The message of the governor to Philadelphia says: "Having been officially informed that the Liberty Bell will be sent to the Panama-Pacific International exposition, I most earnestly suggest the advisability of having this great historical relic shipped by way of Arizona so that the people of this state might, at different points en route, have an opportunity to view the bell and make its passage through the state an occasion of patriotic observance. I feel at liberty to assure you that the people of Arizona would be appreciative of your favorable action upon this suggestion."

Ashurst Sends Wires. United States senator Henry F. Ashurst, responding to the suggestion from Mr. Barnes, has sent telegrams to William Randolph Hearst, United States senator from Pennsylvania, and Pennsylvania's United States senator, George T. Oliver, of Pennsylvania, and the Philadelphia, North-Carolina, pleading for their help in having the bell routed by way of the south. "The bell has been through the central portion of the United States," said Mr. Barnes, in his appeals to the Arizona officials, "but it has never been south or west."

Many Cities Active. Not only have the state officials taken an interest in the matter, but mayors and city councils all over Arizona are writing to Philadelphia, appealing for the sending of the bell over the southern route. E. S. Kirkpatrick, president of the Yuma commercial club, a native of Pennsylvania, wired a 200 word message to the Philadelphia council appealing for the routing of the bell through Yuma.

A Physician's Opinion

A physician who uses Grape-Nuts in his family was recently asked his opinion of this food. He said—

"It is a concentrated, palatable, nourishing and healthful food. Sweetened slightly and moistened with good rich cream, Grape-Nuts makes a very toothsome dish."

There's a reason for these excellent qualities in Grape-Nuts. This food is made of whole wheat and barley, thoroughly baked and processed to render it easily and quickly digestible—generally in about one hour.

Grape-Nuts contains all the rich nutriment of the grains, including the phosphorus, iron, sulphur, and other mineral elements so necessary for proper nourishment of body and nerve cells. It's a healthful food, and economical also.
